Q-Links Silver Pendant

By Casey White

First introduced on Tour in 1999, Q-Link products by Clarus quickly found favor with many of the world's best players, who recognized the fame-enhancing benefits of the brand's proprietary SRT-3 technology.

In the decades since, Q-Link products have been worn by more than 350 Tour players worldwide and played a vital role in 120 wins, including a British Open, U.S. Women's Open, U.S. Senior Open and Women's British Open.

When worn together as a system, Q-Link bracelets and world-famous pendants provide the ultimate on and off course benefits available from SRT. This helps restore natural balance to players of all ages and abilities, facilitating the peak mental and physical performance needed to improve scoring.

In addition to promoting faster recovery from bad shots, reducing first tee jitters and even the yips, the new line of Q-Link products are known to promote better overall sleep and alleviate symptoms of jet lag common among today's international Tour players, business and leisure travelers.
